BUYING OUT DURHAM.

Rev. Sandford of Shiloh Continues Purchase of Farms.

Durham, Me., April 6.—Rev. Mr. Sandford of Shiloh, continues to buy real estate in this town.

Edon Davis and Louis Goddard have sold their place to Samuel Sylvester, and it goes without saying that he is acting as Mr. Sandford's confidential agent in buying for him. It will be remembered that Mr. Sylvester was one of Mr. Sandford's landmen in the late tract. Mr. Sylvester has bought Leonard Davis' farm, which is situated near Shiloh, and has the famous Sylvan Pond water. Mr. Sylvester has sold the land on the hill containing the spring to Mr. Sandford.

P. W. Sandford has bought William Moulton's farm, and also has bought John E. Pickett's farm, stock, and horse, part of the farming tools and carriage. This farm is one mile from South Durham. Mr. Sandford has had a four-wheeled carriage come lately, and today it was drawn along the country roads by four splendid horses, with Mr. and Mrs. Sandford in the lead in a new bicycle buggy, also drawn by a fine new horse. They visited the Pickett farm. Upon arriving there, the land played "Nearer My God to Thee," etc., and gave three cheers and then returned to Shiloh. Mr. Sandford is also negotiating for the Charles W. Webster farm containing 100 acres. It is also reported that a lady has lately come to Shiloh, who is worth $50,000, and another report is that Mrs. Duff Sandford's father has died and left his daughter a great wealth which must be invested in real estate. It was always known since Mr. Sandford's coming here that his wife's father, whose name was Kenney, was quite wealthy. He was a cotton broker.

DOWLING WATNESS BILL.

Jerome's Bill Measures Passed New York Assembly.

Albany, N. Y., April 6.—The Dowling Watness bill, designed to compel witnesses to testify in gambling cases, was passed by the Assembly today. The bill was strongly advocated by District Attorney Jerome.

The flag at Paris asserts that Foreign Minister Delcasse is seeking through an influential Catholic deputy, to obtain an audience of the Pope when he accompanies President Loubet to Rome and that the minister has already decided to have at least one interview with Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state.

WORD OF GOD.

East Maine Methodist Episcopal Conference at Pittsfield.

Sessions, Wednesday, Well Attended and Proved Very Interesting.

Conference Sermon Delivered by Rev. A. J. Lockhart.

Pittsfield, Me., April 6.—(Special).—The East Maine Conference opened Wednesday morning at 8:30 in the auditorium of the Manson Street church, with a devotional service, led by Bishop Vincent.

This was followed by the administration of the Lord's Supper by Bishop Vincent, after which the Conference was formally opened and organized, the Bishop presiding.

The officers of the Conference were elected at this session as follows: Secretary, L. H. W. Wharf, Searsport; First Assistant Secretary, Rev. A. J. Nutter, Union; Assistant Recording Secretary, Rev. L. H. Limestone, Guilford; Third Assistant Secretary, Rev. H. W. Morton, Dover; Statistical Secretary, Rev. B. W. Russell; Treasurer, John Tindling, Houlton.

It was voted that the election of delegates to the General Conference occur, Friday morning.

This session was followed by a Memorial service, which occupied the remainder of the forenoon.

The morning sessions were all well attended and proved very interesting. Many delegates arrived on the early morning trains.

The annual conference sermon was delivered in the auditorium of the Manson Street church, Wednesday afternoon, by Rev. A. J. Lockhart of Penikese.

It was a very interesting discourse and was heard by a large audience.

Mr. Lockhart said in part:

A vision appeared to Paul in the night; there stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him saying, Come over into Macedonia and help us. Acts 16:9.

"God had but one son, and he was a foreign missionary," said David Livingston. This was also the rank and status of his chief apostle, who had made a gospel highway along the uplands of Asia Minor, saving churches along his way, and had now come to the limit in that country. He moved on, following the divine voice and vision into Europe, and to the accomplishment of the noblest mission that ever engaged the powers of man.

Our Macedonia has widened. It is not now Europe only, but the world. It is no longer Paul, the embodiment of the zeal and courage that are requisite in the prosecution of Christian missions in foreign lands, but it is the Christian church.

This response lightly touches every church, the smallest, the remotest, the lowliest, the obscurest. The church is into the business of foreign missions, and the whole church must be into it, by organized, earnest, concentrated effort.

We cry out Macedonia in a fervent cry. We sometimes talk as if the nation we call heathen did not want the gospel; as if we were trying to force it upon them. This is not so now, if ever, indeed, it was so. The response we make is inadequate and dilatory, matched with the urgency and greatness of the cry. The sign of the Hindu member who had slain her child in the jungle and sacrificed to her gods, when she stood face to face with the Christian missionary, and felt the power of that love supreme nothing but heart, "Ah why did you not come sooner, that my little boy might have been here?" is the type of ten thousand mothers in India, in China, with a sorrow and yearning as deep as hers, who are waiting for the gospel.

The Wednesday evening session of the conference was the anniversary of the Church Extension Society, with Rev. J. A. Wood of Corvallis, presiding.

Union hall was well filled and the meeting was one of the most interesting of the conference thus far.

After singing by the congregation, prayer was offered by Rev. E. H. Boynton of Brewer. Responsive reading, and singing "Come Thou Almighty King," by the audience, followed. L. G. March of Woodville, rendered a pleasing vocal solo.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. T. C. Hill, D. D., of Philadelphia, Pa., on the subject, "Church Extension." Rev. Hill's discourse was one of the most interesting addresses heard in Pittsfield for a long time. Mr. Hill commanded the closest attention of the audience during the entire evening, and was greeted with round after round of applause.

DESPONDENCY THE CAUSE.

Quicide of an Aged Lady Near Rockland.

Rockland, Me., April 6.—Despondency developed from nervous prostration caused the suicide of Mrs. James Waldron, aged 69 years, at West Rockport, Wednesday. She left home at dawn and jumped from a bridge into Oyster River stream, her body being found in three feet of water several hours later. She was survived by a mother, aged 90 years, a husband and seven children.

An automobile in which was Prince Frederick Leopold of Prussia, collided with a drag near Berlin, Wednesday and the Prince's foot was severely injured.

THE PROGRAM

For Coming Convention of Charities at Portland.

Portland, Me., April 6.—The executive committee of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections will meet in New York, April 9, to complete the program which will be given at Portland, June 15 to 21. Governors and mayors of all cities of the United States and Canada, with over 10,000 population, are to be invited to send official delegates and a rate of one and one-third fare has been secured. Tickets purchased June 11 are good to return June 25.

Several joint meetings will be held immediately preceding the national conference, in holding one on juvenile delinquency and one of the district nursing societies. The Portland program so far as it is officially mapped out, gives promise of sustained interest. It opens, Wednesday evening, June 15, with the address of the president, Dr. Jeffrey R. Brackett of Baltimore. Without attempting to make complete announcement at this time, some of the more prominent subjects to be taken up can be emphasized. At the first morning session which will be given over to children, manual training as a preventative of juvenile delinquency and one of the district nursing societies.
